The Youth Music Song Garden!

Dancing flower

This year's Glastonbury goers can come and find their voice in the shaded/ dry comfort of Youth Music and Sing Up's Singing Garden.

Inside the Youth Music tent at The Left Field will be a miniature replica of the festival, populated by hundreds of dancing flowers that react to singing. Adults and children can warble their favourite songs to the flowers, who will groove along in time to the vocals, just like your very own Glastonbury crowd!

Music Leaders will be on hand to advise on singing technique, and children can take part in singing workshops in the Kid's Field. Older children and adults can chill out in the Youth Music deck chair area, find out about music making in their area and win the Coldplay signed guitar that will be on display in the tent.

EDITOR'S NOTES...

Sing Up is the Music Manifesto's National Singing Programme, produced by Youth Music with AMV-BBDO, Faber Music and The Sage Gateshead. Sing Up aims to have every primary child in the UK singing by 2012.

Youth Music is one of the National Lottery's great success stories. Set up in 1999, with a remit to support music-making activities for some of the UK's most disadvantaged young people, Youth Music has gone on to reach over 1.75 million children and young people, encouraging their talents, building their confidence and transforming the landscape of musical opportunity throughout the UK. The music-making supported is of the widest variety, from hip-hop and dj-ing to classical and jazz.
