The rock legends have a second track from their latest album coming your way...

Metallica will release new single All Nightmare Long as a digital download on December 15.

It's the second song to be taken from their massive selling Death Magnetic album which reached number one in 32 different countries!

The group- headed by Lars Ulrich and James Hetfield- have also revealed that their recent O2 Arena show raised over £80,000 for charity Youth Music.

Metallica recently announced live dates in the UK for February next year- they sold out in just a few hours. 8 minute opus All Nightmare Long is only being released as a digital download but it will come packaged with the video as well.
